Fairfield Inn & Suites Tampa North Staff Volunteer at American Cancer Society Lunch

TAMPA, FL--(Marketwire - Jan 17, 2012) - As one of the hotels near Moffitt Cancer Center, the Fairfield Inn & Suites Tampa North often hosts the family and friends of those undergoing cancer treatments. Hotel staff gets to know their guests and learn their stories and struggles, and as a way to show support, Fairfield Inn associates have recently served lunch at the Hope Lodge by American Cancer Society located right next to several hospitals in North Tampa, including Moffitt Cancer Center and Florida Hospital that treat cancer patients.

Held December 13, 2011, at the Hope Lodge, close to the I-75 North Tampa hotel's location, the lunch was in honor of patients receiving treatment. Though the menu was kept simple, the gesture was greatly appreciated, and the day made a big impact on the staff members who volunteered. General Manager Katya Sljusar, director of sales Tammy Dixon, housekeeper Candace Haywood and HSK executive Gina Vasquez felt it was a small way to show support to those who stay at the hotel during their visits.

The Hope Lodge facility offers free temporary housing to patients and their caregivers who live more than 50 miles away from where they are receiving treatment. For visiting friends and family, however, the Fairfield Inn & Suites Tampa North offers affordable, convenient and comfortable North Tampa group accommodation within minutes of nearby hospitals, offering an easy place to rest after a day visiting with loved ones in treatment.
